Perfume- Escentric Molecules

Created by legendary "nose" Geza Schoen, Escentric Molecules strip back the bells and whistles of traditional perfumery, to create something unique and unusual without being gimmicky. In fact, it's the laissez-faire element of these concoctions that make them so alluring and seductive (think: 60s French screen siren in a scruffy t-shirt and jeans). These aren't "pretty perfumes" but far more intriguing – showcasing the dizzyingly wonderful things synthetic notes can do. The "Molecule" scents (including the hugely popular Molecule 01) are based around a single ingredient, designed to meld with the wearer's natural pheromones for a truly spellbinding effect. If you're on the lookout for a scent that's sexy yet subtle, this unisex line is proof that great perfumes don't need to smother the wearer in a rich, floral fug.

Polo Experiences Christmas gift vouchers 'for the person who already has everything?'

With experiential gifts taking the rise in almost all sectors, there is very little more unique than a half days polo experience. Perfect for non-riders, those who have never been able to, but always wanted an introduction to the 'Game of Kings' or equally for those who have had some time off the sport and wish to pick back up the mallet.

The vouchers start at £145 for a half day, are valid for 12 months and redeemable in four clubs in England. They are also available to be sent beautifully packaged so you can enjoy the special ceremony of unwrapping. Vouchers available from: www.poloexperiences.com/product/polo-experience-day
